

How to be Certain of Curing Constipation

Prejudice is a hard thing to overcome, but where health is at stake and the opinion of thousands of reliable people differs from yours, prejudice then becomes your menace and you ought to lay it aside. This is said in the interest of people suffering from chronic constipation, and it is worthy of their attention.

In the opinion of legions of reliable American people the most stubborn constipation imaginable can be cured by a brief use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You may not have heard of it before, but do not doubt its merits on that account, or because it has not been blatantly advertised. It has sold very successfully on word of mouth recommendation. Parents are giving it to their children today who were given it by their parents, and it has been truthfully said that more druggists use it personally in their families than any other laxative.

Letters recently received from M. E. Myers, Morrison, Tenn., and Ada Hamersmith, 118 W. Chestnut St., Louisville, Ky., are but a few of thousands showing the esteem in which Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is held. It is mild, gentle, non-gripping—not violent, like salts or cathartics. It cures gradually and pleasantly so that in time nature again does its own work without outside aid. Constipated people owe it to themselves to use this grand bowel specific.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. E. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Campbell Cantrill is now the Democratic nominee for Congress in the Seventh district, having defeated those of his enemies who tried every method at their command to retire him. We are not a great admirer of Congressman Cantrill, but we deem him quite as good timber and a far better Democrat than many of those who have tried to bring about his undoing, and we are really glad that he "laid them all in the shade" so nicely. Now let his enemies prove themselves Democrats worthy the name by coming to his rescue in November next and returning him to Congress by an increased majority.—Somerset Times.

Fertilizer Wastes.

Farm manure always has been and without doubt always will be the principal material used in maintaining the fertility of the soil, but it is an unquestionable fact that the greatest source of loss to American Agriculture today is in the enormous waste of farm manure.

If corn were worth $1.05 a bushel, then the average annual value of the corn crop of the United States for the past ten years would be equal to the average value of the total farm manure annually produced in this country. This statement is based upon the careful estimate of the United States Department of Agriculture, placing the average annual corn crop at nearly 2,500,000 bushels, and the average value of the manure annually produced at more than $2,500,000.

The evidence is sufficient to justify the conclusion, and practical observing farmers will agree that at least one third of the manure produced is wasted on the average American farm. If this is true, then the total value per annum of all commercial fertilizers used in the United States (amounting to about $75,000,000) is equal to only one tenth of the annual waste of farm manure. This is no argument against the intelligent and profitable use of commercial plant foods by those who made and save and use farm manure to the greatest possible practical extent, but it serves only to emphasize the tremendous loss to the country from the waste that is permitted.

A Daily Prayer.

Good Lord, deliver us from the man who tells the story that we were going to tell. From the man who reads the paper to us after we have finished with it. From the people who talk all the time and keep us from talking. From those who tell us things we really ought to do to our self. From all those, indeed, who persist in giving us any sort of advice but that which pleases us. From the old snaggle-toothed woman who has nothing to do but gossip. Also from the landlord who insists upon collecting the rent; from the gas man, from the piano man, the milk man, the ice man and the plumber; from all those, in fact, who persist in trying to separate us from the money which we have not, good Lord, deliver us.

Let a wife and mother love the home and her children, with the most absolute answering devotion, and serve them with the most unselfish fidelity, there are nevertheless times when she is weary. She knows better than anyone else the steps and the stitches, the same things done over and over, and the pettiness the trials that come to the nursery and kitchen. They are so insignificant that she is ashamed to talk about them, and we fear she sometimes forgets to tell her Savior how hard they press her; and so, bearing her cross all alone its weight becomes crushing.

Good housekeeping has more to do with domestic happiness than young lovers dream of. We believe these times need women whose most beautiful work will be done inside their own doors. Without good housekeeping, the romance will soon go out of marriage.

Arizona And The Recall.

The Arizona Legislature threatens to reinsert in the constitution the provision for the recall of judges to which President Taft objected, and which caused a bill for the admission of Arizona to be vetoed by the President.

The Courier Journal aptly observed a few days ago that Hillsville had just witnessed a recall of the judiciary by the Allen Gang. There was something more than jest in the observation. The Allens typified, with exaggeration that merely lent emphasis, the spirit of the mob unrestrained which would operate to make the courts ineffective and ridiculous under the recall system.

President Taft acted wisely in vetoing the bill with the recall provision in it. If Arizona's Legislature wants to amend the Constitution there is nothing apparently, to prevent the Legislature from doing so, but that will not injure President Taft. And in our opinion, if Arizona adopts the recall and President Taft remains in politics there will be no better campaign capital in his record as a public man than the veto of the Arizona admission bill puts the experience of Arizona with the recall of judiciary adopted despite that veto and after the State became a State under a bill without the provision to which he objected.—Frankfort News Journal.

The father returns to his home after a weary day at business. He is tired in body and mind. Coming back, as his latch-key turns in the home door he throws off care; he is joyous at the thought of the dear ones he will meet after hours of absence. His young daughter, in a pretty gown, with the bloom and freshness only girlhood wears, should be ready to give him the attention he loves—the kiss, the cherry word, to help her mother and the rest in letting her father see how much he is loved at home.
